NIMBUS GROUP'S CFO RASMUS ALVEMYR TO LEAVE THE COMPANY

Nimbus Group's Chief Financial Officer (CFO), Rasmus Alvemyr, has decided to leave the company after seven years in the role. He will remain as CFO during the recruitment of his successor. "The time at Nimbus Group has been an amazing period, including taking the company public and growing it into a global player in the premium segment of the motorboat industry through acquisitions. I take with me many rewarding experiences, and although I will miss all colleagues, the timing feels right to take the next step—both for me personally and for Nimbus Group," says Rasmus Alvemyr.

Rasmus Alvemyr assumed the role of Nimbus Group's CFO in August 2018 and was responsible for preparing the company and its finance function for the IPO in 2021. Alvemyr joined Nimbus Group from PwC, where he worked as an auditor and advisor for 16 years.

"I will continue to follow Nimbus Group both as a shareholder and as a dedicated boat owner," says Rasmus Alvemyr.

The recruitment of Alvemyr's successor begins immediately, with the goal of having a replacement in place as soon as possible. During the transition period, Alvemyr will remain in the role of CFO.

"Rasmus has been involved in shaping the Nimbus Group that I have had the privilege to lead for a short time now. I want to thank Rasmus for his important contribution to the Group and wish him the best of luck in the next step," says Johan Inden, CEO of Nimbus Group.
